Roger de Napton beforementioned had his advancement from his uncle, Roger Molend. This Bishop was nephew to King H. III. (Matt. Paris, 42 H. III), Bp. of Coventry and Lichfield, who, by several grants, gave him large portions of land in Eccleshall, Peshall, and both ye Suggenhulls, together with ye manor of Toft (not far from Napton)[1] which he bought 54 H. III. [1269/70] of Sir. Wm. bagot of Hide (juxta Stafford), Kt., after which residing here, and assuming ye name of Burghton, he purchased ye manor of Cherleton and Swinshead, with divers lands in Peshall and Podmore, and died 6 E. II [1312/3]. Elyas his son, and heir, being then married to Margery ye daughter of Robert Bromley, of Bromley, Kt., by whom he had issue John, father [? grandfather] to Thomas de Burghton, who married Eve, one of ye daughters and coheirs of Tho. de Greenway, and had with her ye fourth part of Greenways's manor in Biddulph and divers other lands in ye counties of Staff. and Chester. Thomas and Eve had issue John, father to another Thomas, which Thomas having married Margaret, ye daughter of John Young of Charnes, and being divorced from her 3 E. IV [1463/4] (consanguinitatis causa) by a definitive sentence in ye Ecclesiastical Court at Lichfield, infeoffred H. D. of Buckingham, Hugh Egerton, Peter Legh, Esqre., and others in all his lands and tenements which Eliz., his mother, then held in dower in ye towns and fields of Burghton, Cherleton, Podmore, both ye Sugenhulls, Peshall and Sutton, co. Stafford, and in Toft, co. Warw., by which (bearing date ye Monday after ye feast of St Michael ye Archangell, 15 E. IV. [2 Oct 1475]) he ordained that his said feoffees should enfeoffe ye said Margaret de Charnes with lands beforementioned upon John his son by her, and ye heirs of his body lawfully begotten, and for want of such issue to Ric., his second son by ye said Margaret, in kile manner, with remainder to Joan and Eliz. his daughters. But this Thomas married again and 16 H. VII. [1500/1] suffered a Fyne and Recovery of his manors of Bughton, Chaerleton and Bidulph (with all his other lands) to Tho. Soudeby Gent., Ric. Dicher, and Rob Gosling, whereupon they settled the manors and lands upon Ric. Broughton, son to Thomas, and ye heir of his body lawfully begotten, and in defect of such issue to Agnes, Margerie, and Helen, sisters to Ric. ... [SHC 1914 31-2]
